Why MMT Biotechnolog

Let's look at the difference between topical medicines and MMT Biotechnology. Topical Medications consist of a number of ingredients that do nothing more than form the cream and its characteristics; viscosity, pH, skin feel, emulsifiers, fragrance, etc. Next the active ingredient is added. The total efficacy of the product depends entirely on the active ingredient.

MMT Biotechnology uses only one ingredient to form the cream and its characteristics. The other inactive ingredients in the formula are used to boost the performance of the active ingredient including ingredient delivery, rate of delivery, cell targeting, cell binding, anti inflammatories, cell stimulation and growth, antimicrobials, etc. This Biotechnology approach turns the product into a powerhouse. This allows for the formulation of safer, less irritating and overall superior products. Typically, MMT Biotechnology is very versatile and can be divided into a host of products using the same formula.

What is the Advantage MMT Biotechnology Products

The old 1 active ingredient with lots of Inactive ingredients concept and started in the mid 1800's is now obsolete. The new MMT Biotechnology products use 1 Inactive Ingredient and all the rest are Active Ingredients. where all the ingredients in the product are medically active and contribute to the efficacy. This approach opens vast new medical opportunities never before possible. .

WHAT IS MAGIC?

MAGIC is a line designed to meet individual needs. For small problems like an insect bite or a kitchen burn, blister, or cold sore etc. 15 gram tubes are easily affordable to solve the small problems. For problems that require longer treatment times everything is furnished in large tubes.

Cosmetics OTC and Drug Differences

Cosmetics generally offer an exceptionally smooth skin feel. Problems Are typically irritation and that is solved by stopping use until the irritation is gone. Cosmetic testing just involves irritation testing.

MMT TOPICAL OTC (Overthe Counter Drugs) are designed to treat common skin disorders. Problems are typically irritation and that is solved by stopping use until the irritation is gone. OTC testing involves irritation and efficacy testing. MMT factories follow procedures used by our USA prescription plants to insure the highest quality.

Drugs are designed to treat serious problems such as cancer, diabetes, heart problems etc. Problems can involve permanent side effects and even death. Serious clinical testing is required often with years of required follow up to ensure safety.
